Over time, how did you go about networking? Do you tend to work with your tested partners, new people or a mix of that?

– CONFERENCES, WORKSHOPS–

- EXISTING NETWORKS

- EUROPEAN ARTISTIC RESEARCH NETWORKS
- EUROPEAN SOCIETY FOR AESTHETICS (HOSTED CONFERENCE)
- DIGITAL STUDIES NETWORK (PARIS, IRI CENTRE POMPIDOU)
- NEW PEOPLE JOIN THE NETWORKS AND ENCOURAGE MIXING NETWORKS (ECT LAB+ AND DIGITAL STUDIES)
- PARTNER ON APPLICATIONS PRIOR TO CO-ORDINATOR

Objectives

The Research Objectives for ReaLsMs are as follows:

- Bring a new perspective to the Smart City and Data City from Digital Studies that emphasises the articulation of the algorithmic process, human interaction with technology and different areas of knowledge development in order extend understanding of citizen capacity (WP1)
- Illuminate the “black box” regarding Smart City technologies and Big Data for citizens to increase knowledge of and influence over data collection and subsequent use of data (WP2)
- Experiment and introduce new forms of citizen participation in the Data City (WP3)

MSCA Research Innovation and Staff Exchange

Outcomes

Expected outcomes of ReaLsMs are:

- New episteme of the city
- New method for handling data collected through Smart City infrastructure
- New means of citizen engagement by demystifying “black box” surrounding Smart City technology and increasing citizen expertise
- Prototype for Real Smart City through development of software and public fora
- Professional completed socially engaged artistic works for presentation in Dublin, Durham, Greater Paris and Ecuador.

Each Work Package will also result in deliverables, crystallising research into tangible outputs. Please see the Work Packages section for more information.

- ABOUT NEST is an intercontinental and intersectoral project that links academic research with social and artistic practices to carry out theoretical inquiry on the relationship between digital technologies, living systems and the production of knowledge within territorialized laboratories forming networks of localities. The project is based on contributory research: a method combining... read more »

- AIMS The project rehearses the potential of territorialized knowledge based on a hypothesis that digital diversification conditions the resilience of human societies and holds the key for redesigning the self-destructive model of economic development. Digital diversification – understood as noodiversity... read more »

- ACTIONS The project rests on three Work Packages, each responsible for a set of situated research and practical actions. Work package 1: Critique of Computer Theory and Design of a New Ecology of the Digital extends the critique of digital technology already undertaken by the digital studies network. It aims...
